

A Day Trip to

The Oriental Institute

Of the University of Chicago

Where was the first Garden of Eden? Where did Abraham come from? Where were the very first cities on earth? No, civilization didn't start on the University of Chicago campus, but the Oriental Institute there is more convenient and safer than a trip to Mesopotamia (Iraq) right now. And that's where it all began.

Don't miss this nearby unique resource. Enrich your understanding of Genesis as well as history. Join us on a visit sponsored by the Spiritual Life Center at Grace United Methodist Church.

Saturday, March 13

Chartered bus leaves the church parking lot at 8:20 am and will return mid afternoon

Cost $52 (includes transportation, admission, and a guided tour of the Institute including a film presentation.)

Lunch will be at Hutchinson Commons, a food court one block away.

(It offers a variety of food—at your expense.)

Limited to 30 people, so enroll now by contacting the church office at 288-4789.
